Art or Sports, why not Both...

- Many argue either it is an art form, dance to be exact, or a form of sport.
- It is a difficult question as there are movements that seek to get Breaking competitions as part of the Olympics.
- On the other hand dance performances in multiple scenes, from music industry to theater, show the artsy side of breaking.

Art or Sports, why not Both...

- Many argue either it is an art form, dance to be exact, or a form of sport.
- It is a difficult question as there are movements that seek to get Breaking competitions as part of the Olympics.
- On the other hand dance performances in multiple scenes, from music industry to theater, show the artsy side of breaking.

Art or Sports, why not Both...

My personal take: it is both!

HaHa! Very original opinion, right?

There are people highly invested in breaking as a sport and competitive thing and then there are those with dance and art and community in mind. Both enrich the movement, evolve && make it more interesting!

Majority stands between both sides.

